PRODUCER

Christine Coletta and Steve Lornie created Okanagan Crush Pad as a purpose-built custom crush facility. Located in beautiful Summerland, British Columbia. They have quickly built a reputation as a premium producer and has received many awards and accolades since its launch in 2011 with chief winemaker Matt Dumayne at the helm. The winery overlooks Switchback Organic Vineyard. From here, their own wines; Haywire, Narrative, and Free Form are made. Dumayne and his cellar team craft unadulterated wines using state-of-the-art concrete tanks, native yeast and minimal winemaking intervention.

VITICULTURE + VINIFICATION

Secrest Mountain Vineyard is a 50-acre site, home to a 38-acre (15ha) vineyard situated on a flat south-west facing bench in a high mountain setting 487 meters (1,600ft) above sea level. This cool site has flat alluvial soils studded with coarse gravel and sandy loam with limestone layers. The vineyard was planted in 2000 with Chardonnay, Gewürztraminer, Pinot Blanc, Pinot Gris, Gamay Noir and Pinot Noir. Since 2010, it has been farmed under the direction of Okanagan Crush Pad and a conversion to organic farming practices was started in 2014. In 2018 when Brad and Dave Wise decided to retire, the winery purchased the property from the family and will carry on with the work that the Wise family has done for the past 18 years. The wine was whole bunch pressed into two egg-shaped concrete tanks for a long, slow native ferment followed by malolactic fermentation. It was left on gross lees to build texture and richness for 10 months before bottling unfiltered. Natural fermentation. Natural malolactic fermentation. None.

TASTING NOTE

Chardonnay made the way nature intended, free from oak, additives, and not manipulated is a beautiful thing. Fresh and expressive, this wine is a textural dream. Classic Okanagan fruit profiles unencumbered in a perfectly authentic varietal expression.
