PRODUCER

Perched high in the hills overlooking Marlborough's Awatere Valley, Loveblock feels a world away from the agricultural hustle and bustle below. Kim and Erica Crawford acquired this wild patch of land in 2008 and have turned their organic farm into a haven of biodiversity. It is here they make a Sauvignon Blanc of constrained elegance and texture. While in Central Otago, Kim and Erica farm five different clones of Pinot Noir on their 9-hectare 'Someone's Darling' vineyard, planted on sand over schist close to Bendigo, in the warmer climes of this most southerly wine region.

VITICULTURE + VINIFICATION

The soil type is free-draining sandy loam over schist alluvium gravels known as Molyneux soils. The Dijon clones planted here give the wine nice floral notes, while Abel and Pommard provide structure. Grapes are both hand and machine harvested with a destemming harvester. At the winery, the fruit was pumped straight to the tank without crushing in order to leave some whole berries and stems. After a five-day cold soak, the must was warmed and fermentation was spontaneous. The ferment was hand plunged twice daily until dry when it was pressed off. The wine then underwent full malolactic fermentation in tank. After 8 months of ageing, the wine was stabilised and sterile filtered to bottle. There is use of manure and horn in the vineyard to promote natural biodiversity and aid healthy grape growth without use of chemical intervention. Approximately 50% of this wine was aged in neutral oak.

TASTING NOTE

Legend has it that the body of a young man was buried on the land back in the 1860s. The young man's grave was simply marked "Somebody's Darling lies buried here" – we named the vineyard 'Someone's Darling'. Ripe black cherry with smoky notes and hints of mushroom peeking out behind rich fruit. Fleshy black plum, with layers of cherry and sweet berries that play on the palate and dance with notes of violet.
